

Sentiment is for No Change in dump

There are many people, residents of Wilmington, who do not want a change in the present system of solid waste disposal.

During the past week many residents have called the editor of the Town Crier, or visited in person, to express their sentiments. Such was not a poll, in the scientific sense of the word, but it did reveal a strong sentiment.

There are Wilmington residents who do not want to see Paul Godzyk put out of business, in his solid waste collection.

There are Wilmington residents who feel that Clarence Spinazola has served the town well, and that the dump should not be put out of business.

There are Wilmington residents who are worried about what will happen to Wilmington industries, if an award is made to some out-of-town firm, for rubbish disposal and the dump is closed as a consequence.

Many had noted the conversation of Aldo Cairra, during the selectmen's meeting of a week ago Monday. Mr. Cairra had reported on his conversation with Ken Tarbell, the state official who is in charge of enforcement of solid waste regulations in this part of the state, and who has an office in the Tewksbury Hospital.

Mr. Tarbell was reported by Cairra as saying that the Wilmington dump was superior to the Tewksbury dump. (In one instance, a week ago, the Town Manager indicated that the solid waste from Wilmington would be going to the Tewksbury dump).

Mr. Tarbell was also reported by Cairra as saying that Site One, down by the Woburn line, where it was proposed to have a dump/collection station was not the best site, but rather "fourth or fifth" of six sites which were considered by a Wilmington committee.

These reports were noted, by Wilmington residents, during the past week. They want no change.

Six honored by DeMolay

The International Supreme Council of the Order of DeMolay, Kansas City, recently announced high honors for Advisors and Senior Members of Friendship Chapter, Order of DeMolay, in Wilmington.

Designated to receive the Legion of Honor, the highest degree and honor conferred by the Supreme Council, were former Advisors Richard C. Allard, formerly of Kelley Rd., Wilmington, now of Avon, Conn., and William J. Davidson, of Gunderson Rd., Wilmington. This honor is granted only for outstanding leadership in some field of endeavour or for success in fraternal life, including adult service to DeMolay.

Designated to receive the Degree of Chevalier, were Senior Members Theron C. Barden, High St., Wilmington and Barry E. Garden of Middlesex Ave. Both Barden and Garden are Past Master Councilors of Friendship Chapter, and in addition, Garden is the Chapter Advisor. This is the highest honor that can be conferred upon an active or senior member of DeMolay for exceptional and meritorious service in behalf of the Order.

Three Advisory Council Members have been awarded the Cross of Honor; Ralph L. Barden, Kenneth R. Leavitt and Robert E. Tadgell, all of Wilmington. This is the highest honor that can be given by the Supreme Council. It denotes conspicuous and meritorious service to the Chapter, and to DeMolay.

Route 129 public meetings at Wildwood School

There are three public meetings scheduled for June 10, 15 and 24 at the Wildwood School cafeteria (on Wildwood St., Wilmington) each at 8 p.m., at which the public can learn what progress has been made on the proposed improvements to Route 129 in Wilmington and Reading. The June 10 meeting will be open for general questions and discussion after a slide presentation on the project. Large-scale plans as well as aerial photos of the project corridor will be available for inspection by the public.

The meeting on June 24 will be held for businesses that may require relocation due to the project, and the meeting of the 15 will be held for potential residential locations. Both relocation meetings will be open to the general public. Presentations will be similar to that of the June 10 meeting, but will include an outlining of relocatees' rights and their entitlements to compensation. Discussion afterward will center about relocation matters.

The Route 129 project is currently in its second phase (or Task), following publication of an Environmental Overview Summary in February, 1976. (Copies available for review at the Wilmington and Reading public libraries). During Task II detailed analysis will be made of all of the various impacts to Wilmington and Reading identified in the Environmental Overview Summary. Of 17 alternatives originally proposed and studied, four (including a no-build alternative) are currently being considered. One of the three build alternatives calls for a widening of existing Route 129, another is a partial bypass, to the north, around Wilmington Center, and the third is a full bypass of existing Route 129 from Richmond Street in Wilmington to the I-93 interchange.

All three include completing the I-93/Route 129 cloverleaf interchange.

MacGillivray Field proposed for Little League

Wilmington Little League is always short of playing fields. A proposal has been made that another be made, and one of Wilmington's selectmen is now working on that proposal. The field would be named after Scott MacGillivray, who met a tragic accidental death a few weeks ago.

Scott MacGillivray played with the Little League Braves coached by Joe Bulger, in 1965, with the Orioles, coached by Larry Noel, for three years, and with the Yankees, coached by Arnie Jackson for two years. He was a member of the Senior League All Stars in 1971-72.

In High School he played on the freshman team, and in Junior Varsity. He also played on the Wilmington Recreation Boy's Softball League.

A Memorial Trust Fund is being set up in his honor, at the Melrose Savings Bank. Mrs. Nikki Johnson, bank manager, is to be the trustee. The purpose is to have a Little League Field, hopefully, and to have it named after Scott MacGillivray.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Huber of Woodland Drive have pledged to do all they are able to, to further such a Little League Field.

Four hundred attend Wilmington Marathon

Every year is a little better than the year before, and 1976 was no exception. There were over 400 attendees at the Wilmington Marathon which was run Sunday, in the High School football field and around the school grounds.

Two of the earlier races were perhaps the best.

In the 880 yard run, for boys in grades one to three, Jimmy Taylor, a third grader at the Woburn Street School outdistanced his competition by 50 yards for an easy win. Jimmy was noted at the very beginning of the race, and kept ahead of everyone for the entire distance. He finished in the very good time of two minutes 57.7 seconds.

There is another story, in the 880. The two boys who finished last. There was perhaps no reason, other than to be able to say "I did it." They received a tremendous applause. One of the boys was Tom Fitzgerald, a seven-year-old who has breathing difficulties. Tom's face was red, when he crossed the line, but he did it.

Two girls who outdistanced all their competition in the one mile race were Lucy Iocco and Mary McNaughton, both from the Hathaway Acres part of Wilmington.

BOTH CAME IN AT A GALLOP.

There were no competitors in sight. Lucy did the mile in six minutes 23.2 seconds, and Mary was .3 seconds behind her. Mary, of course, is the young lady who has been getting all the swimming medals lately.

THEY FINISHED IN A GALLOP: Lucy Iocco at the finish line, and Mary McNaughton right behind her.

Grades 4-6 Girls: First Lucy Iocco, second Mary McNaughton, third Lori Belbin, fourth Charlene Branscombe.

Grades 4-6 Boys: First Bob Miele, second George Boudreau, third Kevin O'Brien, fourth Frank Newark.

Grades 7-8 Girls: First Denise Gilson, second Diane Gallagher, third Linda Dodge, fourth Susan Nagy.

Grades 7-8 Boys: First Keith Ford, second Scott Sullivan, third Vincent Iocco, fourth Eric Larson.

Grade 9-Age 21 Ladies: First Linda Boudreau; (Men) first Doug

Spring, second Dana Spring, third Mark Blaisdell, fourth Ian MacInnis.

Ages 31-Over, Ladies: First Diane Polizzotti, (Men) First Kevin Callahan, second David Cronin, third Hugh Fraser, fourth Don Staffiere, fifth Bob Holbrook, sixth Bill Bradley.

The Recreation Department thanks all participants and volunteer workers for their assistance in making this year's marathon the most successful yet.

"Topper" at Wilmington Library

The movie for the month of June at Wilmington Memorial Library is "Topper." The film is considered one of the best "screwball" comedies.

Based on a novel by American humorist Thorne Smith, it is an entertaining story of a sober gentleman transformed into an adventurous romantic by two ghosts.

The movie will be shown in the Conference Room of the library Thursday, June 3 at 7 p.m. Admission is free.

Tavern sign to be erected

The Harnden Tavern, in North Wilmington, now owned by the town, is to have a sign erected, telling the passing motorist a little of the history of the building. The sign is planned to look much like that now in front of the Wilmington Hall and is to be in place before the 200th anniversary celebration July 4.

The Wilmington Beautification Committee also has plans for planting herbs and flowers around the old tavern.

The Historical Commission has now received a certificate saying that the tavern is registered, on the National Register of Historic Places.

THE NATIONAL REGISTER: For the Harnden Tavern, is exhibited by Adele Passmore.

Knights and Nobles

Everyone agreed it was the grandest Memorial Day parade to ever take place in Wilmington. Thousands of spectators, hundreds in the parade. Of those, about 400 were members of the Shriners, with colorful costumes and regalia, bands, horses, a locomotive, and their own Company of Minutemen.

Father Croke Council of the Knights of Columbus were special hosts.

Of course the Shriners were not the whole parade. There were the Veterans, the Girl Scouts, the Campfire Girls, the Boy Scouts, the High School Marching Band, and many others. Some of those others were from the K of C, including a few Mickey Mouse characters, and four in a 1933 Plymouth. Richard Celata managed to stall his 1933 vintage car in front of the Masonic Hall, and was conveniently pushed on, for a start, by some standers-by.

When the Father Croke Council of the Knights of Columbus heard that the Shriners would be coming to town the Knights made a special effort to bid the Nobles welcome. The K of C Hall was opened up to them, to change their clothes before and after the parade, and to participate in fellowship. There was a luncheon, after the parade, with Nobles and Knights and their families - and there was entertainment such as no K of C Hall had heard of, before.

The Oriental Band of the Shriners put on a full concert, a special performance just for the Knights. It was quite an event.

GRAND KNIGHT GEORGE KELLY: Welcomes Ken Harvey of Melrose. Ken is a 25 year member of the Oriental Band, a past president, and it is reputed that his cribbage playing is "lousy."

SELECTMAN BOYLEN: And other Knights.

SNAKE CHARMER AT WORK: Bill Manchester is a Reading resident.

GREAT DRUMS! And Horns, too. The Oriental Band at full tilt in the K of C Hall. At upper right is Herb Nickerson of Marie Drive.

The steeple isn't straight

A contract has been let to repair the steeple of the Congregational Church of Wilmington. Arthur Smith, a carpenter of Woburn Street in North Wilmington, is to do the job. He will also effect repairs to the roof, replacing tiles or shingles as needed.

Church steeples are always more interesting, perhaps because there are so few of them.

That church steeple dates back to 1876. That was the year that a hurricane blew down its predecessor. The timbers for the new steeple, massive ones, came from Clapp's Mill, down on the Wilmington/Burlington line, upstream from the Garden of Eden.

It was Noah Clapp who milled those timbers. He owned the old mill, and eight years later he moved to Oakland, California, taking his entire family including two marriageable daughters. Frank Eames, who was the treasurer of Wilmington about half a century ago used to tell the tale of one of those girls and of her beauty.

Those timbers can be seen from the inside of the steeple, but only after someone has opened the door at the choir loft level - a door that is always locked. The door was equipped with a lock many years ago, perhaps at the time the church put in the Frazee organ. Gerald Foster Frazee, a wonderful man, a fine musician, put in that organ.

To climb up in the steeple and see the timbers is to see the marks put there generations ago by young men of Wilmington - the Carter boys and the Eames boys and others. Not many people see them today.

Arthur Smith isn't going up through the church steeple. He is going to build a staging, starting at ground level, and going straight up, perhaps all the way to the top. That will be a job in itself, and it should be interesting.

For if Arthur goes up high enough he will learn that the church steeple leans to the right. He may even find it leaning against his staging, if he builds straight up.

About 20 or 25 years ago a salesman of surveying instruments was in the town hall, across the street, trying to make a sale. To demonstrate he set up an instrument in the driveway, and then "ran" a line up the church steeple, to show how good the instrument was.

The result was a puzzle. That steeple didn't go up straight. Afterwards he said it leaned to the right, about six inches.

The Rev. George Taylor, pastor of the church, agrees, only he says the steeple leans over about nine inches. Of course it is 25 years later, but anyway, the Rev. Mr. Taylor does have a more direct line to an authority who could determine just how much that steeple does lean.

And, if Mr. Smith does build his staging so that it goes straight up he may be able to settle the question. Just get out his ruler, and measure - and find out.

Just how much does that steeple lean?

Bantam B highlights

The Bantam B's continue to roll, defeating Cambridge 4 - 2 and Billerica II 13 - 1 for an 8-0-0 record. With two games left on the spring schedule.

Keith Ford put the B's out front 1 - 0 on an unassisted goal only to have Cambridge tie it up on a screen shot from the point one minute later. Still in period one, Mark Boudreau scored on a pass from Gordon Smith making it 2-1. John Carter scored an unassisted goal as he circled the net and bounced it in off the goalie's skate.

In period two, Mike Stokes scored, assisted by Ford. Two minutes later Cambridge made it 4 - 2. Half way through period three John Holmes stopped a Cambridge breakaway - one of his 11 saves of the day.

Billerica II was once again bombed 13 - 1 in a very lop-sided game. Scoring were Keith Ford, four goals, one assist; Gordon Smith 3 - 1; Joby Duggan 2 - 2; Walter Surrence 1 - 3; Dave Dunbar and Gary Stack 1 - 1; and Daryl MacDonald, one goal.

Other assists went to Bob Lowney and Mike Stokes, three assists plus one each to Ken MacMullen, John Carter and Eric Larson.

The next games - Friday, June 4, 6:20 p.m. vs. Tewksbury and Sunday, June 6 at 4 p.m. vs. Billerica I.

Arrow of Light for 11 in Pack 63

The highlight of the recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 63, Wilmington was the presenting of the Arrow of Light to 11 pack members. The Arrow of Light is the highest award a Cub may obtain and is the only award he may take with him into Boy Scouts.

Pack members receiving the coveted award were: Brian Norton, Mark Minervini, Edward Mullin, Frank Jason, Edward Long.

Mark Lanzillo, Jeffrey Maye, Daniel Ugolini, John Lesperance, Stephen Hartka, David Webster.

Twenty-one other boys also received awards at the same pack meeting. Those included:

Den One: Eric Ouellette, one silver arrow (wolf).

Den Three: James Cristie, one silver arrow (wolf); John Down, two silver arrows (wolf); Glen Baptiste, one silver arrow (wolf); John Dow, two silver arrows (wolf); William Zambarnardi, one silver arrow (wolf); Greg Krikorian, one silver arrow (wolf); Mike Lacey, one silver arrow (bear); John Maye, two silver arrows (bear).

Den Four: Chris Lydon, one silver arrow (wolf); Russell Lydon, bobcat.

Den Five: Sean Sullivan, bobcat. Webelos: Brian Norton, naturalist and athlete; Mark Lanzillo, athlete; Edward Mullin, athlete and engineer; Frank Jason, outdoorsman.

John Lesperance, outdoorsman, sportsman, scholar and citizen; Stephen Hardka, sportsman, scholar and citizen; Keith O'Donoghue, scholar; Matthew Wallant, sportsman and scholar; Wayne Johnson, scholar; Sean Lowney, athlete, aquanaut and scholar; Brian Davis, outdoorsman, sportsman, aquanaut and scholar; David Webster, scholar and citizen.

ONE OF THE BEST GROUP OF MARCHERS: Is the Wilmington Police (F). Every hair is in place, the skirts are all the same length and the step is perfect. They are a group of ladies well worth watching. They are shown swinging through Wilmington Square.

Minimum Water Rate Questions

The Wilmington Water Commissioners have agreed to consult with the firm of Coffin & Richardson, concerning charges that should be made to Wilmington homes using water in amounts of less than 1200 cubic feet in a quarter. The agreement was made Thursday evening, after a long discussion with 14 senior citizens and member of the Council on Aging.

The agreement was made for the consultation after the commissioners had pointed out that they had to have water rates for income to pay not only for overhead, and bonds, but for operating costs and insurance factors too.

It would be impossible, they argued, to have rates which would reflect the personal conditions of the users, such as age, etc.

The position of the senior citizens, as expressed by James (Goldy) Watters, was that they were willing to pay an increased rate for water, but that they did not want to pay for water they did not use.
